Circular letter COM17/001
To all valued customers

Subject: New model B 07 plate heat exchanger

The upcoming implementation of the ERP 2018 European Regulation has prompted Recuperator to look for models with higher thermal efficiencies.

The renewed geometry of the New Model B 07 ensures an increase in performance, completing the range of the B Series, which has all been successfully updated.

The new Model B 07 will replace the current one, which will cease production 15 December, 2017.

The new Model B 07 will be available starting 15 January, 2018.

The main features of the New Model B 07 are:

- Higher thermal efficiencies for an easy reach to 73% dry (ERP 2018).
- New geometry of the fins.
- Wide fin spacing range (3.5 - 4.5 - 5.5 - 6.5 - 7.5 mm).
- External square side dimension of 705 x 705 mm (as with B 08 to B 12 models).
- Extension to New model B 14 (external square side dimension 1410 x 1410 mm).

At the same time, the New Model A 07 will also be launched with the same characteristics as described above, with an even greater possibility to achieve high efficiency (external square side dimension 705 x 705 mm, 2.5 mm spacing), as well as New model A 14.

Due to the information above, we advise that Recuperator will accept orders for the current B 07 model no later than Friday 24 November 2017.

The delivery of orders already acquired in the current model is guaranteed; any new orders that may be received during the transition period could be converted into model F 07.

The updated selection programs and the Eurovent certification will also be available from 15 January, 2018.

We are confident that the benefits offered by the New Model B 07 will compensate for any inconvenience in deliveries over the next few weeks.
